

Week Ahead

This should be a quiet, holiday shortened week with Thanksgiving on Thursday. Earnings have nearly wrapped up and economic data releases for the week are on the light side. We will however, be paying close attention to market action as we believe the bottom in stocks may be close. We made it through the mid term elections without much noise but we still have a major unknown that will be released by the end of the year: the Mueller probe. There has been whispers about potential bombshells being released but we will just have to wait and see. Currently, our view on the equity markets has not changed - we still believe we are in a bull market.

Major Earnings Announcements for the Week:

- Monday- L Brands
- Tuesday- Best Buy, Campbell Soup, Dycom, Foot Locker, Gap, Kohls, Medtronic, Ross Stores, Target & TJX
- Wednesday- Deere
- Thursday-
- Friday-

Economic Calendar/ Market Moving Events:

- Monday-
- Tuesday-
- Wednesday- Durable Goods 8:30AM
- Thursday-
- Friday- PMI releases 9:45AM